Negotiating Committee Update

7:00 p.m., February 3rd, 2006

- Your negotiating committee has been meeting with the company all we reached tentative agreements on most of the non-economic issues.
- Late Friday evening, while making the necessary preparations to present our economic proposal, the company informed us that they were ordered to report to corporate headquarters on Monday, February 6th, to discuss the economic package of the agreement, and will not be able to meet with us again until Wednesday, February 8th.
- We were informed that these would not be traditional negotiations. It is unclear to us exactly what is meant by this statement.
- You will be voting on this one-year extension on Saturday, February 11th, 2006. The time and place of the vote is yet to be determined.
- We will continue to communicate any new developments to the membership as they occur.

Fraternally,
Your LL1992 Negotiating Committee
